

David recently played the role of Father Matthews in THE GATES, directed by Stephen Hall, alongside Richard Brake and John Rhys-Davies; and the priest in THE BANSHEES OF INISHERIN, directed by Martin McDonagh.

David has a long history in Irish theatre and most recently played Clark in SADIE at the Lyric Theatre, directed by Conleth Hill. He played the role of Sylvester/Priest in THE RED SHOES in The Gate Theatre, directed by Selina Cartmell; and Leopold in ULYSSES at The Abbey Theatre, directed by Graham McLaren.

In television David recently appeared as Frank in BODKIN, directed by Nash Edgerton, alongside Kerri McLean and Peter Bankolé. He plays the role of Cardinal in THE SERPENT QUEEN for STARZ alongside Samantha Morton.

David was nominated for Best Actor at the 2012 IFTA awards for his role as Lawrence Duffy in TRIVIA. David won Best Ensemble Cast for THE BANSHEES OF INISHERIN at the 2023 INOCA awards.
