

Kathy Rose has most recently been cast as Glenda Gold in Chris O'Dowd's SMALL TOWN BIG STORY for Sky Originals.

Further screen credits include the role of Tara Tobin alongside Angeline Ball and Victoria Smurfit in Rachel Carey's debut feature DEADLY CUTS, and the recorded monologue GRACE, written by Joseph O'Connor as part of The Abbey's Dear Ireland Project.

Recent stage credits include the part of Gretta Conroy in THE DEAD at the Gaiety Theatre; the lead role in a stage adaptation of Mary Lavin's short story IN THE MIDDLE OF THE FIELDS directed by Joan Sheehy; and Stacey Gregg's single-hander BRILLIANT as part of Landmark Productions' and Octopus Theatricals' Theatre For One project at the Cork Midsummer Festival 2019, alongside actors including Eileen Walsh, Dearbhla Crotty, and Seán McGinley. Other recent credits include COME ON HOME by Philly McMahon, directed by Rachel O'Riordan for the Abbey Theatre. Earlier this year Kathy Rose curated a performance & exhibition for the Museum of Literature Ireland (moli.ie) regarding her grand-aunt, novelist Kate O'Brien, as part of the museum's recent launch. Kathy Rose is a highly accomplished voice-over artist, and works very frequently in radio drama and narration, in particular winning the Gold Medal for Narration at The New York Festivals Radio Awards 2018 for THE LITTLE PEN PAL (RTE).
